Cleveland Public Power (CPP) is a major enterprise fund of the City. Enterprise Funds are used to account for operations that function in a manner similar to private business enterprises and are financed primarily by user fees.

Mission & Key Programs

MISSION

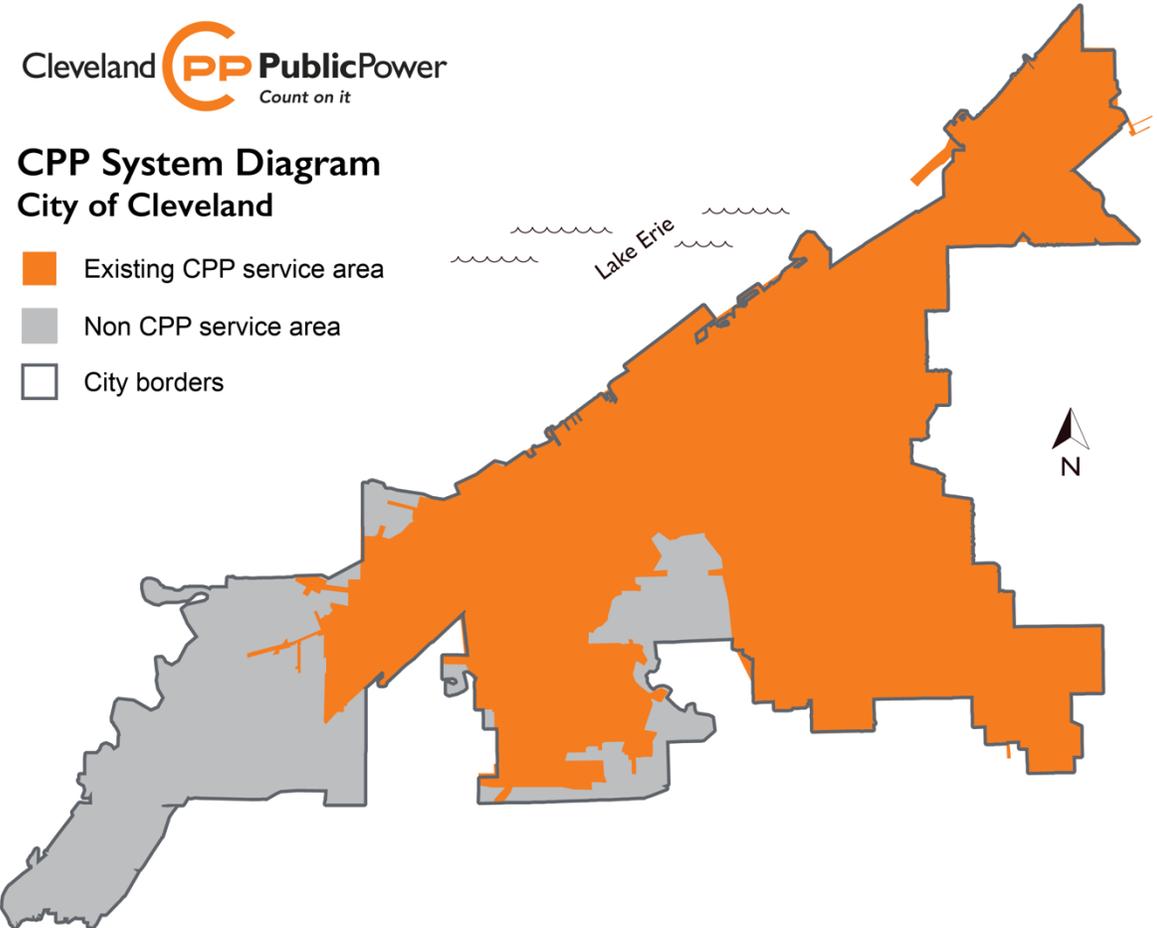

To provide reliable and economical electric service to all electric customers in the City of Cleveland.

KEY PROGRAMS

- Provide safe, reliable, and affordable energy
- Upgrade and improve the CPP power grid
- Maintain streetlights
- Respond to customer inquires

CPP Responsibility

- CPP provides reliable, affordable energy and energy services to residents and businesses in the City of Cleveland
 - Distribution system covers approximately 2/3 of the city
 - Directly competes with CEI

Infrastructure

50 Miles of Transmission Lines

Transmission lines carry higher voltages and larger quantities of power over long distances.

33 Substations

Substations step down the voltage in the transmission lines to voltage that is suitable for the distribution system.

900 Miles of Distribution Lines

Distribution lines deliver lower voltage electricity to neighborhoods over a shorter distance than transmission lines.

CPP Charges Explained

There are three charges that CPP bills to its customers as part of an electric bill. All of the charges are authorized by and explained in the City of Cleveland Codified Ordinances Chapter 523.

Electricity Charge

The fixed rate that CPP charges for each kilowatt-hour (kWh) of power that a customer uses.

Kilowatt-Hour Tax

Tax required and set by the State of Ohio and charged for each kWh of power that a customer uses.

Power Supply Recovery

The charge by which CPP recovers costs incurred for the purchase of electric power that CPP sells to its customers.
