Legislative Summary

2022-23 State of Ohio Office of Criminal Justice Services ARPA Grant Fund: Community Violence Initiative

DEPARTMENT: Community Relations Board

ORD NO: 657-2023

PURPOSE: The purpose of the request is to apply and to receive funding from the State of Ohio Office of Criminal Justice Services to support the Intensive Mentoring and Community Engagement: Violence Intervention and Reduction

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: The City of Cleveland's Community Relations Board is seeking to apply and receive funding for 2 years. This initiative is to support Intensive Mentoring and Community Engagement Violence Intervention and Reduction within Cleveland among youth. Youth identified for the program are those youth returning home from the State of Ohio DYS system. The Trauma-Informed Violence Reduction Model and Mentorship Model recognizes that youth delinquency is often the byproduct of the youth experiencing family dysfunction and chronic trauma, exposure to criminality in the home or community, with high levels of community violence. This approach works through collective activities with aligned values that reinforce the necessity of holding youth accountable for maladaptive behaviors while simultaneously providing behavioral health services to address the antecedents of their behavior. The goal is to provide the following: Life Skills Training and Case Management, Intensive Mentorship, Trauma-Focused Treatment and Education, and Community Partnerships. State funding of $2,103,872.00 for two years will be used for mentors, safe housing, safe travel, workshops, job help, trauma services and professional services. Project LIFT will be our partner in this grant to help address behavioral and mental health issues.

The Director of Community Relations Board is requesting to apply for and accept the 2022 State of Ohio Office of Criminal Justice Services ARPA Grant Funding for Community Violence Initiative. The Director of Community Relations Board is authorized to enter into one or more agreements, including contracts, with various entities or agencies as needed to implement grant initiative.

Ohio ARPA CVR Eligibility Tool

PURPOSE: COMMUNITY VIOLENCE INTERVENTION PROGRAMS

All communities can qualify to apply regardless of whether or not there has been an increase in violent crime. However, to be considered for funding the project must address a measurable problem of violent crime in the community and target a reduction in that level of violent crime.

Select the CVI program category that is being requested in this application:

- Community-Based Violence Interruption Programs
- Hospital-Based Violence Interruption Programs
- Trauma Recovery Center Programs
- Child Advocacy Center Programs
- Focused Deterrence Strategies
- Crisis Response Programs
- Other, Specify

PURPOSE: VIOLENCE REDUCTION

To qualify for violence reduction programs that are not CVI programs, complete the following. "Yes" required for one or both to be eligible.

Has violence in the community increased since the pandemic began?  Yes  No

Explain/Demonstrate by comparing violence data prior to January 27, 2020 to violence data following January 27, 2020 and through March 3, 2021:

The Office of the Mayor reported, "Rates of violence have increased in the City of Cleveland during the pandemic, recording a 30-year high with 179 homicides in 2020 and a 39% rise compared to pre-pandemic levels with 169 homicides in 2021. The City of Cleveland has recorded 61 homicides this year."

Has the community experienced increased difficulty addressing the effects of violence (even if the level of violence has not increased)?  Yes  No

Due to COVID19, many services were cut or completely eliminated for youth at risk for violence. While services have slowly began to re-open, this has not impacted violence reduction services. Youth with violent histories currently receive zero transitional services which increases their risk of recidivism and acts of violence.

Will the proposed program provide services to support those living within Qualified Census Tracts (QCT)?  Yes  No

Identify the QCT(s) to be served and how the residents of the QCT(s) will be served:

The project will focus on the following QCT Cleveland, OH. We will provide intensive mentoring and case management to youth and their families, as well as training and support for community partners to expand the reach of the program.

(NOTE: Law enforcement agencies must be contributing crime data to OIBRS or the FBI's NIBRS Collection

Narrative

Please see the Request For Proposal (RFP) for this grant program for guidance on completing this section. The RFP can be found at www.ocjs.ohio.gov

The City of Cleveland remains number one in youth commitments to ODYS and that trend continues with adult offenders to the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections. The Street Team identified the lack of transitional support focused on violence reduction, trauma-focused support services, and life service support provided to youth, ultimately resulting in re-engagement with negative or gang-affiliated youth, as well as criminality. A vast majority of the youth involved with ODYS cannot safely return to their communities without support services to help them prepare for the changes needed, linkage to address mental and physical issues, and stabilizing services due to housing and food insecurity. According to Acting Center for Disease Control Acting Principal Deputy Director Debra Houry, M.D., MPH, "The COVID-19 pandemic has created a traumatic stressors that have the potential to further erode a young person's well-being. Our research shows that surrounding youth with the proper support services can reverse the trends and help our youth now and in the future."

It is time to expand this program and disrupt the cycle of violence and incarceration by providing intensive mentoring, trauma-focused treatment, and outreach for youth with violent histories. Finally, data from the National Incident-Based Reporting System shows us that the pandemic has caused a sharp increase in mental health problems among adolescents, including sharp increases in anxiety disorders, depression and self-harm. These pandemic-fueled problems cannot be solved with harsher punishments in the court system."

The project plan for this funding opportunity falls clearly within the Community Violence Intervention (CVI) Purpose Area and has four main components rooted in the Trauma-Informed Violence Reduction Model, the National Mentor Resource Center, which is a program of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, and the Botvin Life Skills Curriculum, which are all evidenced-based and validated treatment and prevention models. The four components of the project are:

Intensive Mentorship – The mentors are staff members with lived experience who can provide youth realistic and authentic problem-solving skills and life alternatives that specifically address their safety concerns and fear of overcoming their circumstances. In addition to promoting nonviolence, the mentors are focused on helping them build meaningful and healthy connections to improve their wellness.

Life Skills Training and Case Management – Life skills training educates them on goal-setting, conflict resolution, community resources, and more. In addition to the information, youth will receive intensive case management to help them complete life tasks to build independence and knowledge.

Trauma-Focused Treatment and Education - Every youth in ODYS custody has been exposed to high levels of trauma which causes increased aggression, hypervigilance, defensiveness, and apathy. Trauma-focused treatment and education helps youth build emotional regulation to develop coping skills, positive emotional expression, and confidence to manage discomfort and anger, while helping them to heal from their experiences.

Community Partnerships – We will continue to partner with youth and young adult serving agencies invested in community outreach, intervention, and education, to ensure youth have options upon completion of the program.

The Trauma-Informed Violence Reduction Model and Mentorship Model recognizes that youth delinquency is often the byproduct of the youth experiencing family dysfunction and chronic trauma, exposure to criminality in the home or community, with high levels of community violence. This approach works through collective activities with aligned values that reinforce the necessity of holding youth accountable for maladaptive behaviors while simultaneously providing behavioral health services to address the antecedents of their behavior. It also recognizes that the absence of violence does not result in improved outcomes for the individual youth or community, and well-being must be prioritized to provide youth with exposure to life opportunities to support positive decision-making. According to research, "mentoring serves as a critical violence prevention strategy by offering flexible, broad support to young people on a wide variety of their needs, being one of the few prevention and intervention strategies that can effectively address multiple risk and protective factors simultaneously."

Goal One: Provide youth within six months of release from the Ohio Department of Youth Services with intensive in-facility group education and individual case management focused on violence prevention and moral development to reduce acts of violence and develop a plan for community re-engagement.

Narrative

Performance Indicator: Number of youth referred to the program from Cuyahoga Hills, Indian River, and Circleville facilities who completes a plan and participate in case management services.

Goal One: Provide support services to youth at-risk of engaging in violence or reoffending activity to reduce the rate of recidivism, reduce violence, and provide crisis intervention to support community engagement and stabilization.

Performance Indicator: Number of youth continuing services with mentors post release abstaining from acts of violence and reoffending behaviors, who complete community service, and are engaged in education, vocation, or personal development services.

Goal: Project LIFT Service will provide youth at risk for reoffending and/or violent behavior with the treatment and support to manage triggers for aggressive behaviors, heal from their trauma experiences, and apply coping skills based on their identified protective factors.

Performance Indicator: Number of youth who complete the assessment within three months prior to discharge, participate in and complete the group

Goal: To enhance youth outcomes through effective partnerships with youth-serving organizations with a "One Voice" approach to violence intervention rooted in best practices.

Performance Indicator: The number of community partners who complete the training. The number of collaborative community workshops facilitated in the community.

Executive Summary

The Executive Summary serves as a concise and accurate description of the proposed project. Information in the Summary is forwarded to the Governor's Office and other local, state and federal agencies for public information requests. Summary information must be submitted in the space provided.

The purpose statement is a clear concise statement that explains the purpose of the project. It describes what the applicant is going to do; the population that is going to be served; how it will be accomplished; and why it is important.

PURPOSE STATEMENT

The project plan for this funding opportunity falls clearly within the Community Violence Intervention (CVI) Purpose Area and has four main components rooted in the Trauma-Informed Violence Reduction Model, the National Mentor Resource Center, which is a program of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, and the Botvin Life Skills Curriculum, which are all evidenced-based and validated treatment and prevention models.

Mentor Activities:

Services begin when the youth is still placed at one of the juvenile correctional facilities and are within six months of discharge. The youth are assigned a mentor to begin addressing individual concerns, this may include what lead to their adjudication, family stability, etc. The mentor meets individually with the youth once a week. While the youth is working with their mentor individually, they will also participate in the group curriculum. The group meets once a week for 12-weeks and discusses risk versus reward, moral development, de-escalation techniques, and many other topics to reinforce healthy decision making and violence reduction. The mentors attend facility interdisciplinary treatment team meetings, which discusses the youth's education status, mental health concerns, progress, and barriers.

Mentors participate in the release review committee meetings to incorporate court expectations into the mentorship support services. The mentors work with the youth to create a "90 Days Home" plan, which identifies goals, needs, barriers, and safety concerns. The mentors complete a threat assessment based on the 90 Days Home plan and works with the family to determine if the environment is safe or to help the family access resources to move from the neighborhood if possible. The mentors also work with community partners to identify opportunities for healthy engagement to expand their social network, reinforcing violence reduction and positive decision-making.

The program focus for post-release youth is to support the implementation of their 90 Days Home plan, to connect them to educational/vocational services, and to link them with community partners who can reinforce what they have learned. Mentors will continue to provide individual mentorship and case management on a weekly basis. Youth will receive 2-3 hours of case management to support the youth's wellness and stabilization. Mentors will provide community crisis intervention to assist with resolving any conflicts impacting the youth. Additionally, youth will participate in community service and exposure trips to strengthen decision making and to practice healthy coping skills when they feel distressed or triggered.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

According to Acting Center for Disease Control Acting Principal Deputy Director Debra Houry, M.D., MPH, "The COVID-19 pandemic has created a traumatic stressors that have the potential to further erode a young person's well-being. Our research shows that surrounding youth with the proper support services can reverse the trends and help our youth now and in the future." In June of 2022, the Office of the Mayor announced an investment in addressing and reducing youth and gun violence, through targeted Cleveland Division of Police initiatives focused on violence disruptors and equipment to improve law enforcement intervention.

Since October 2021, the Community Relations Street Team, facilitated the mentoring and street outreach program, serving to 42 youth returning to the city of Cleveland, across all three ODYS facilities, providing a total of 240 hours of service. We have already seen a return on our investment. In the most recent youth disturbance where youth barricaded themselves in a facility for days, none of our program youth were involved in the incident. There are currently 180 youth in ODYS custody who will return to Cuyahoga County as of July 2022. This number does not reflect the number of youth in juvenile detention, which in 2021 (most recent data) was 563 youth in juvenile court custody or with open cases who could be transferred to ODYS.

This was accomplished with three dedicated staff splitting their work responsibilities and with the assistance of community partners. We have already seen a return on our investment. ### PARTICIPATING AGENCIES / COLLABORATION

The city of Cleveland is partnering with Project LIFT Behavioral Health Services to provide trauma-focused services and ongoing training. The organization operates with a proactive, culturally responsive, holistic approach, engaging the community and residents in innovative ways with a focus on 3 areas of wellness: social functioning, mental health, and prevention. The organization builds trust through its presence in the community, its work to dispel stigmas, and by building relationships.

Community Partner Engagement and Training Activities and Goals

Interrupting violence cannot be accomplished within a vacuum. No matter how effective services are in one program or agency, that is still only one program or agency. To truly impact our youth and out communities, we must partner with organizations who are well-respected in their neighborhoods, with proven track records for youth and community engagement, who will echo the same principles and expectations our youth are receiving through mentorship and treatment.

Executive Summary

We currently collaborate with several community organizations to address violence , safety concerns, and provide resources. We will continue to partner with the following organizations:

Cleveland is partnering with Project LIFT Behavioral Health Services for trauma-focused services and ongoing training. LIFT works with justice involved youth through project collaborations with Cuyahoga County juvenile court and ODYS. I have been a repeat trainer for juvenile court on the topic of racial trauma and more specifically, trauma within Black males, with particular attention to gang involvement, violent behaviors, and engagement. LIFT sits on the Age 21 Discharge Committee, working to create and identify resources for youth. Most Age 21 youth are immediately homeless and end up in the adult system within 6-12 months of discharge. This outcome negates the purpose of DYS. LIFT provides ongoing education and linkage for youth within 6 months of discharge. Our goal is to ensure they know they have someone to call once discharged. They also work with ODYS on trauma informed approaches to reducing gang involvement.

LIFT will provide behavioral health treatment and prevention services with the following learning objectives :

1. Youth will understand behavioral outcomes and antecedents to healthy bonding related to abuse , neglect, and dysfunctional homes to increase participants insight into their behavior to improve interactions
2. Learn about emotional regulation to develop an understanding of the impact of dysregulation on thoughts, behaviors, and mental wellness.
3. Youth will enhance their understanding of how the connection between thoughts , emotions, and behaviors are triggered by past instability or trauma to assist youth with understanding their triggers to reduce negative expressions and violence.
4. Youth will understand how to reduce negative interactions by understanding their crisis response and using their protective factors to support healthy decision making.

Transp is for clients to attend trainings, interviews ect. Supplies/MK is for workbooks, printing, and marketing. Service LRN and TRSN SP are explained in pre award conditions .
